

Tonight

S. Furster

The stars that fill the skies tonight
Reflect in her eyes
The clouds are low and the moon is white
It's on the rise
He feels like a fool but he knows it's alright
He feels like a child, brand new ...tonight

Tonight it's alright tonight.

The scented wind is cool tonight
Just like the grass
Hearts like crystal dew are bright
They're made of glass
Well, she shines in the night with the light of her life
She shines like a child brand new ... tonight

Tonight it's alright tonight
Tonight it's alright tonight

With the swelling of emotion
These two hearts will find
That the ribbons of devotion
Their two hearts will bind

And the breathless bloom of love
These two hearts will find
Each rising moon above
Their two hearts will bind

Tonight's alright tonight.
Tonight's alright tonight.

There's magic in the air tonight
Falling so near
The music from the heart is light
Ringing so clear
They sing in the night and they know it's alright
Oh, sing like a child brand new ... tonight

Tonight it's alright tonight.
Tonight it's alright tonight

The whisper of the leaves tonight
Echo their own
Sigh of love and future bright
Trust the unknown
They laugh in the night and they know its alright
So laugh like a child brand new ... tonight

Tonight it's alright tonight.
Tonight it's alright tonight.
